

BATS 1000SM Index to be Published via CTS Effective Thursday, July 1

On July 1, 2009, the BATS 1000SM Index was introduced and has been providing index and sector summarization data on the Index via http://www.batstrading.com/market_data/indices/bats_1000/.

The BATS 1000SM Index measures the performance of 1000 U.S. listed securities within 10 sectors based on market capitalization. It is designed to represent the performance of the large cap, mid cap, and small cap segments in the 10 Better Alternative Sector Exposure Standard (BASESSM) sectors, all of which are equally-weighted.

The BATS 1000SM Index serves as a market directional index and was created to illustrate a unique perspective on current market conditions. The inception date was July 1, 2009 with a base value of 10,000.

BATS is pleased to announce that it will begin distributing BATS 1000 Index information via the Consolidated Tape System (CTS) on Thursday, July 1, 2010.
